electric light bulb. He also tried dropping water on it. None of his tests were heard by those listening in on the radio apparatus.

Accompanying the Rev. Mr. Dickey to the cave for the prayer service were the following: the Rev. E. L. Hilburn, pastor of the Munfordville Methodist Church; the Rev. B. F. Capas, pastor of the Cumner and Hardyville Methodist Churches; Howe Ralston, vice president of the First National Bank of Glasgow, and J. C. Hutcherson, Glasgow.

Spraying of banana oil this morning into a crevice twenty-five feet inside the opening of Sand Cave, led to the discovery of a passage twenty feet from the main entrance of the cave. An iron bar and a pick, believed to have been carried there by Floyd Collins on one of his exploration trips, were found in the passage.

Will Explore Carefully.

This new opening was not explored carefully but will be immediately. Mr. Carmichael said that if it leads near Collins' prison, dynamiting will be used to break through.

The channel was entered this morning by M. K. Ford and Casey Jones after it had been discovered by means of the banana oil fumes.

Homer Collins, brother of the trapped cave explorer, listened to the radio sounds after Dr. Hazlett announced he is certain Floyd is alive. Homer said he is convinced that the Doctor's theory is correct.

"I had given up all hope of rescuing Floyd alive," Homer said. "But these respiration sounds have given me new hope and I am certain my brother lives."

TO RENEW TEST.

Will Use Oil Again to Find Outlet From Sand Cave.

By WILLIAM BURKE MILLER.

Sand Cave, Cave City, Ky., Feb. 9—In a small opening into the earth fifteen feet to the left of Sand Cave a faint odor of banana oil was detected this afternoon and has caused Dr. W. D. Funkhouer to announce another test will be made with the pungent fluid to determine if there is another entrance to Floyd Collins' underground prison.

The odor quickly faded, but no chances will be overlooked. If oil sprayed into Sand Cave is smelled again in the small cavern, an attempt will be made to penetrate to where it comes through. Fifteen feet underground the cavern becomes too little to permit the passage of a man's body, but if the second test is successful it will be enlarged.

According to a survey, the small cave, if it does not wind too much, probably reaches a point almost directly where Collins is trapped.

Ten students of the Western State Normal School at Bowling Green, some of them members of the football team arrived here today and volunteered their services. They will probably be put to digging the shaft to Collins. They are Dewey Barnes, William Titsworth, Ual Killebrew, Walter Wells, John Stevens, William McFarland, P. G. Glasgow, Michael Coffey, Percy Wilcox and Homer Neisz.

Their spokesman announced that "600 other students stand ready to come if addition aid is needed."

Colorado Church Aids Collins' Fund

Colorado Springs (Colo.) Methodist Episcopal Church, South, telegraphed Monday the amount of its Sunday morning collection, $9.39, to aid in the fund for Floyd Collins' rescue. The wire was directed to "Mr. Miller, Correspondent, Courier-Journal." As William Burke (Skeets) Miller still is on duty in Cave City, the money will be forwarded directly to the fund.

RED CROSS WILL PAY CAVE COSTS

Will Assume Expense of Providing Materials Used In Rescue Attempt.

The Courier-Journal Washington Bureau.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Announcement was made at headquarters of the American Red Cross today that that organization had assumed the entire expense of providing materials used in the work of trying to reach the underground prison of Floyd Collins at Sand Cave.

The announcement explained the State of Kentucky has no appropriation available for lumber and other materials necessary for sinking the shaft to the imprisoned man, according to telegrams received here today. Drilling machines and men to work them are being donated by private firms, but the Red Cross will furnish all other necessities.

An additional appropriation for this purpose was authorized today by the Red Cross and forwarded to Sand Cave, where Louis C. Barry, field representative of the Red Cross, and Miss Elsie K. Mantle of its Louisville Chapter are in charge. A telegram received early today from Barry stated that although the progress of the rescue is good, it is doubtful if Collins will be reached before Thursday.

"Complete first aid and canteen facilities for the rescue crews have been established at the mouth of the cave by the Red Cross," the announcement said. "Dr. William H. Hazlett, Chicago surgeon, who arrived at the cave several days ago by airplane with the expectation of releasing Collins by amputating his leg, yesterday took charge of the Red Cross tent hospital.

"The equipment consists of four Red Cross tents, twenty-four cots and bedding, and all other necessities. Two Red Cross nurses from Louisville are assisting Dr. Hazlett attending to minor casualties among the workers, and will be ready to give Collins immediate medical attention should he be reached alive."

KENTUCKIANS WED IN JEFFERSONVILLE

Kentuckians married in Jeffersonville during the week-end were:

Action Follows Story Saying Some Doubt Prisoner In Cave.

TO SEEK ALL FACTS

tigation. Mr. Greer will collaborate with him in the investigation, he said.

General Denhardt said he planned such an inquiry Sunday, and, following a communication with the Governor today, the inquiry was ordered for Tuesday.

"I hope by this court of inquiry to clear up all of the suspicions and to end whisperings of efforts to block the rescue work, and rumors that Collins' entrapment was not genuine," General Denhardt said, and added that Adjutant General Kehoe had also sanctioned by the court.

"It is my purpose to determine exactly why efforts to rescue Collins through the natural passageway failed. I have received information that the eye of suspicion has been turned toward Kentucky and its officials and the wonderful cave region. I propose an inquiry to bring out every fact."

Miller to Testify.

Some of the persons who will testify are William Burke Miller, staff correspondent of The Courier-Journal; Lieut. Robert Burden of the Louisville Fire Department; Johnnie Gerald, one of the rescue workers, who was recently ordered from the cave area by General Denhardt; Homer Collins, Marshall Collins and Andy Lee Collins, brothers of the trapped explorer, and Lee Collins, his father.

A stenographic report of the entire proceedings of the court will be made and the facts will be made available to everyone, General Denhardt declared.

In commenting on the impaneling of a special grand jury to sift the facts, Mr. Williams said he thought it uncalled for, as the rumors, the only thing, he said, to warrant such action, were of a tenuous sort. If the matter is placed before such a body, it will be when the regular grand jury of Barren County convenes in March, he said.

Fields' Statement.

The Courier-Journal Frankfort Bureau.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 9.—In ordering Lieut. Gov. H. H. Denhardt to hold a court of inquiry Tuesday morning to hear evidence of the entrapment and subsequent rescue attempts of Floyd Collins, Governor Fields also said he would not be present at the inquiry.

His statement follows:

I keenly regret the unfortunate A. P. dispatch from Cave City, under date of February 8, to the effect that many people of Cave City and vicinity believe that Floyd Collins is not entombed in Sand Cave. There may be idle rumors by irresponsible or uninformed persons that Collins is not entombed; but to give credit to such rumors at this time is most unfortunate.

I am reliably informed that, at least five persons reached Collins in Sand Cave and saw him in his unfortunate condition. The people, not only of Kentucky, but of the entire country, have generously contributed to the efforts to rescue Collins, and this unwarranted dispatch, whether through the ignorance or evil design of its author, can but have an ill effect upon the morale of those engaged, either by labor or cash contribution, in the worthy effort that is being made to reach the entombed man.

That the country may know the truth, I have directed the military forces in charge at Sand Cave to forthwith convene a military court of inquiry and take the sworn testimony of each person who saw Collins in the cave.

The dispatch that the Governor referred to stated that "many of the cave country folk long accustomed to the cave obsession of Floyd Collins were more pronounced today in asserting their doubts that Collins really is trapped in Sand Cave.

The Governor designated the following to act in the court of inquiry:

MANAGER OF MATCH COMPANY HERE DIES

C. J. Peurrung, 65, Succumbs at Home of Son-In-Law.

Charles J. Peurrung, 65 years old, manager of the Diamond Match Company in this territory, died at 6:30 o'clock last night at the home of his son-in-law, Harry G. Schutz, 2025 Baringer Avenue. Mr. Peurrung had been ill three days. A native of Cincinnati, he moved to Louisville twelve years ago.

Mr. Peurrung is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mayme Peurrung; a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Schutz; two sons, George Peurrung of Louisville, and Charles J. 2 DEAD, 50 HURT IN FOG CRASHES

Motorman, Passenger Killed As Elevated Trains Collide In New York.

NEAR PANIC IN SUBWAY

New York, Feb. 9 (AP)—Two men were killed and more than fifty persons were hurt in a series of collisions on New York's transit lines today, while one of the heaviest fogs of recent years enveloped the city.

Harbor and river traffic was virtually paralyzed as results of the lowering fog that clung close to the surface of the water. The fog was reported general, extending along most of the Atlantic seaboard and affecting traffic on land and sea over a wide area.

Collision On Elevated.

Early reports indicated that the most serious of the series of accidents of the city's transit lines occurred in the Bronx, where an elevated train smashed into the rear of a subway train on the elevated structure. Two were known to have been killed in this collision, while the estimate of injured ran well above forty.

There were two accidents in Brooklyn suburbs. Two trains of the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit Company of the Fulton Street line came together in a rear-end collision, inflicting injuries to a dozen men and women. On the Corona line near Long Island City a steel train of the Interboro Rapid Transit Company smashed into the rear of a wooden train of the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit Company, injuring half a dozen persons.

It is estimated that these two wrecks affected fully 40,000 commuters, as traffic on both lines was tied up for hours.

Women Trampled.

Several women were reported to have been knocked to the floor and trampled when panic seized the crowd in a car of the forward train in the Corona line collision. This was believed due to a report that the car had caught fire. Train guards quickly succeeded in stilling the fears of the crowds.

In the harbor liners kept to their berths or remained anchored off quarantine. Ferry service on all lines was seriously delayed.

Incoming railroad trains also were late.

Avert Panic In Subway Fire.

A subway fire in which a dozen people received slight injuries added to the traffic troubles of the harassed traffic officials. An express train bound for Upper Manhattan was stalled over some blazing ties. It was quelled through the heroic efforts of the train crew that a serious panic was averted.

Four persons were injured when two surface cars came together.

Ferry boats, with their thousands of commuters barely crept through the fog. Two lines were forced to discontinue operations. Thousands of other travelers were delayed aboard railroad trains.

Traffic in the East River further was demoralized when a number of heavy coal barges broke from their moorings and started on a fog-hidden drift. Long Island Sound traffic was tied up. Three night boats from New England cities anchored off Long Island to await clearer weather.

Those killed in the Bronx accident were Frank Akerstrom, motorman of one of the colliding trains, and Giles Wanamaker, an attendant in the Court of General Sessions. Wanamaker was the only passenger in the first car of the colliding train. Motorman Akerstrom also was stationed in this car.

Liners Are Delayed.

Several ocean liners, due to dock today with thousands of passengers, were held in the lower harbor many hours. These included the White Star liner Celtic, the Santa Luisa, from South America; the Ohio, from Hamburg; W. C. Garvis, from South America; the Minnewaska, from Cherbourg; Deutschland, from Hamburg; the Stockholm, from Gothenburg; the Cunarder Caronia, from Liverpool, and the Fort Victoria, from Bermuda.

EIGHT HURT AS FERRIES HIT.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 9 (AP)—Eight persons were injured today, when the naval ferryboat Rocket and the Norfolk-Portsmouth ferry Rockaway collided in midstream during a heavy fog. Both vessels made their piers in safety.

More than 200 naval officers and employes of the Portsmouth Navy Yard, including many women, were aboard the Rocket. The Rockaway also carried many passengers. None of the injured was reported seriously hurt.

MILLIONS IN RUSSIAN JEWELS TO BE SOLD

Special Cable to The Courier-Journal.

Paris, Feb. 9.—One hundred million francs' worth of former Russian imperial jewels will be sold by the Soviets in Paris, it is reported by jewelers, several of whom have been approached by Soviet officials.

Twelve or fifteen million francs' worth already have been sold here, mostly diamonds, pearls and sapphires, taken from their settings.

It is reported they have been taken from the crown jewels, but this is unlikely, for the Bolsheviki have guarded these closely in the Kremlin.

$50,000 Bond for Rum Ship Chief

Ex-Steamer Company Head, Taken After Battle, Held Justice Fugitive.

New York, Feb. 9 (AP)—Mark L. Gilbert, skipper of the 5,000-ton rum ship Homestead, and former president of the Globe Steamship Company, was held in $50,000 bail today as a fugitive from justice.

He and his crew of twenty-four were captured last Friday night, after a thirty-six-hour battle with revenue cutters twenty-five miles off Montauk Point, which ended when the Homestead's masts were shot away, the hull was shattered and her engines were crippled.

Federal Judge Augustus Hand set the bail high on the representation of prosecutors that Gilbert had fled a Federal indictment returned two years ago for conspiracy to violate the liquor laws through international rum smuggling operations, and that he also was wanted by authorities in Massachusetts.

Prosecutors also say they understood further that Gilbert also was indicted with Charles W. Morse and others "for padding the payroll of the United States Shipping Board."

Vicks Stands The Test Of Time

For Over Thirty Years It Has Demonstrated Its Value As An "Outside" Remedy For Cold Troubles.

It is an obstinate cold that can resist the double action of this old familiar vaporizing salve.

Externally Vicks is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, taking out tightness and soreness. Internally, its ingredients, released by the body heat, are inhaled with every breath, loosening the phlegm and opening the air passages.

For deep chest colds, sore throat, bronchitis or threatened pneumonia, you apply Vicks over throat and chest, massage briskly for five minutes, spread on thickly and cover with a warm flannel cloth.

For head colds, catarrh or asthmatic troubles, you melt a little Vicks in a spoon or tincup and inhale the vapors.

Because it is externally applied and therefore avoids dosing delicate little stomachs with so much medicine, Vicks is especially valuable to mothers with small children. Its use will prevent many colds and save much precious strength and vitality.—(Advertisement.

4 BEVIER RIOTERS HELD UNDER BOND

Troops At Muhlenberg Mine Restore Order After Outbreak Over Strike.

James A. Kehoe were in conference at Frankfort this morning and had promised to send all of the troops to the camp that were needed, according to J. L. Rogers, vice president and general manager of the mining company.

Under United States Injunction.

Federal Judge Charles H. Moorman had granted to the owners of the mine a temporary restraining order enjoining certain persons from committing violence there as a result of labor troubles. The hearing for a permanent injunction is scheduled to be held in the Federal Court for the Western District of Kentucky, either at Louisville or Owensboro, March 9. One of the men arrested is alleged to have been named in the temporary injunction, which was obtained as the result of alleged threats and intimidation of mine employes.

County Judge J. J. Rice called a court of inquiry for 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the company's office at Bevier, after the first and most furious attack, which occurred about 3 o'clock in the morning. This resulted in the three arrests and the issuance of warrants for a fourth man. Others were named at the inquiry and more arrests were expected to follow, according to Mr. Rogers. Several witnesses testified. The hearing lasted about an hour.

One hundred and two bullet holes were found in the home of Clyde Sherrod, mine stable boss, who with his wife and two children hid behind a chimney to escape the leaden missiles, Mr. Rogers said. Shots, but not as many, were also fired into the home of Ben Casedier, tipple boss, and several other homes were also targets, he continued. High-powered rifles were used.

The attackers first set on fire a vacant three-room miner's house, the object being, in Mr. Rogers' opinion, to get the guards out into the open so they could be fired on. There were five persons in the Casedier home during the shooting, including Mrs. Casedier and a child, he said. A bullet passed over Casedier's head.

The first siege of the riflemen lasted for about thirty minutes. No further trouble was experienced until between 8 and 9 o'clock Sunday night, when the Sheriff and his men had gone from Bevier to Greenville with the three prisoners. Then about twenty shots were fired into the camp, Mr. Rogers stated. The Sheriff's party returned about 10 o'clock, after which no more shots were fired, he said.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 9 (AP)—Adjt. Gen. James A. Kehoe, was in constant touch with developments at Greenville, Ky., today, where two truckloads of Kentucky National Guardsmen had been dispatched from Livermore, Ky., and Cave City to preserve order following the shooting and dynamiting at a miner's home Friday night.

Captain L. M. Squires of M Company, was in charge of another outfit ready to proceed if further troubles were reported. The situation was reported quiet.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 9.—Belief was expressed here today that the State had no jurisdiction to interfere by sending troops to Bevier, Ky., the scene of mine trouble, inasmuch as there is a temporary restraining order of the Federal court in effect. It was held that it was up to the Federal Court to enforce its own decree. State troops were sent there today.

Governor Fields when questioned about this matter stated:

"This is the first intimation I have had of a Federal injunction in effect at the mine. I do not want to interfere with the prerogatives of the Federal Court. Sunday night the Commonwealth's Attorney and the Sheriff of Muhlenberg County appealed to me for assistance down there. They did not tell me a Federal injunction had been issued and I complied with the requests and sent troops there."

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung disease, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co. Atlanta Ga.—Advertisement.

Prevent tooth decay below the gum-line

As the soil nourishes the tree roots, the gums nourish the teeth. And as the tree decays if you bare the roots, so do the teeth decay when gum shrinkage starts in.

This condition—one of the first stages of Pyorrhea—is very common and something that ordinary tooth pastes are powerless to prevent. If not checked promptly it will lead to loss of teeth and serious organic diseases.

If used in time and used consistently twice daily, Forhan's will prevent Pyorrhea or check its progress. It will preserve the gums in their pink, normal, healthy condition, safeguard your health and keep your mouth clean, fresh and wholesome.

Forhan's is more than a tooth paste; it checks Pyorrhea. Thousands have found it beneficial for years. For your own sake ask for and get Forhan's For the Gums. At all druggists, 35c and 60c in tubes.

No Soot ~ No Dirt ~ No Ashes ~ from Burning Oil

MADAM, modern engineering skill has found a way in which you can heat your home easily, uniformly and economically, yet without soot, dirt and smoke. This is Ray Rotary Oil Burner way.

The Ray Burner can be attached to any type of furnace or boiler and is guaranteed to produce the maximum heat possible from it. No loss of warmth due to improper stoking or imperfect fuel combustion, for the Ray Oil Burner is automatically fired, and the special Ray principle of perfect atomization means that every drop of oil is made to yield its full heat value. The Ray burns the oil completely. No ash or clinker waste, as with coal.

Housewives will appreciate the many economical features of this heater—the fact that just enough oil is burned to maintain the desired temperature; that no furnace attendant is necessary; that there is no banking of fires or early rising to start the furnace; no coal to be carried in and to make a dirty cellar; no ashes to be taken out.

If you will phone South 804 or City 218, our representative will call, without obligation, and explain how the Ray Rotary Oil Burner attached to your present heating system will end your heating troubles.
